An 86-mile high-speed chase after an unidentified flying object (UFO) ended in Conway Sunday morning nearly an hour after it began in Ohio.

Conway Patrolman Frank Panzarella said he saw what prompted two sheriff's deputies and a policeman from Ohio to drive at speeds as to 185 miles per hour in pursuit of the "flying saucer."

The two deputies from Putnam County, Ohio, Dale Spour and W. L. Neff, began the chase shortly after 2 a.m. on Ohio Route 24 near Alwageva, the Portage County.

At about the same time, the police Chief Gerald Buchanan, Ohio, snapped a of the object from southance while he and his wife in their front yard about 10 north of Ravenna.

Spour and Neff, on instructions, pursued the brightly object.

SERIOUS investigation was being made last night by the R.A.F. into the mystery of a silvery-white object that chased a Meteor jet-plane over Yorkshire during "Exercise Mainbrace."

It was seen by two R.A.F. officers and three aircrew as they stood near Coastal Command Squadron H.Q. at Topcliffe.

They had just landed after a flight and were watching a Meteor coming in to land at the neighbouring Dishforth R.A.F. station.

One of them, Flight Lieut. John W. Kilburn, 31, of Egremont, Cumberland, then spotted "something different from anything I have ever seen in 5,700 hours flying in a variety of conditions."

He told me last night: "It was 10.55 a.m. on Friday. The Meteor was coming down from about 8,000 ft. The sky was clear. There was sunshine and unobscured visibility."

"The Meteor was crossing from east to west when I noticed the white object in the sky."

"This object was about 200 feet in diameter and circular in shape, about 10,000 ft. or some five miles across of the aircraft. It appeared to be travelling at a lower speed than the Meteor but was on the same course."

Immortal Masters of Earth

We are not the evolutionary highpoint of creation.

Conventional science will tell us that we – mankind as a whole – are the evolutionary highpoint of creation. That nothing more intelligent than us has ever existed on Earth – and certainly that nothing more intelligent exists on Earth now. This is a rather depressing outlook – given the state of mankind – with the majority spending much if not all of their time doing things that are very far from intelligent – whether simply frivolous or downright evil. An ant may well be of the same limited viewpoint with regard to its own species. How many ants ever see a human being? And if they do, do they recognize it as a higher life form? What if there were one ant who was a bit more adventurous and a bit brighter than all the others, and saw humans, and did appreciate that this was a more evolved species, and then decided to tell his fellow ants this amazing news. It would seem unlikely that the ants, as they busied themselves with carrying food, building colonies, and breeding baby ants, would take much interest – and even if they bothered to listen at all, would they believe such a strange story? And even if they believed it, would they change their lives as a result of it, and try to become more evolved themselves? With regards to the truth about the existence of immortals on Earth – it is we who are the ants: too limited in experience and perception; too preoccupied by daily problems and pleasures; too incredulous of truth, and too resistant to change.

The evolution of consciousness.

Evolution isn't just a physical phenomenon; it's a phenomenon of consciousness. In fact the evolution of consciousness is far more important than physical evolution, and is the driving force behind physical evolution. For centuries seers and prophets have talked about the existence on Earth of beings of wisdom and great power – higher life forms that may resemble us physically, but are without doubt our superiors. In more recent years the veil of secrecy about such beings has been lifted. In the 19th century perhaps most notably through the Theosophical Society, spearheaded by the great pioneer Mme Blavatsky, and more recently by Dr. George King (1919-1997), founder of The Aetherius Society.

Reincarnation is a reality.

Reincarnation is a reality. In fact it is a logical necessity. Consciousness can no more fade into nothingness than a physical object can. Things can change when force is applied, but nothing can ever simply disappear. Consciousness is a living thing, and when its home – the body – can no longer support it, it simply moves elsewhere, existing in a more “subtle” state, before eventually beginning a new life in a new physical body. This explains the countless, well-substantiated cases of ghost sightings; of verifiable mediumistic communications; and extraordinary cases of past-life recall – which are especially impressive as evidence in the case of children remembering a completely different time, place, culture and lifestyle – to which in their current life they have had no exposure. In fact the evidence for life after death is literally overwhelming – certainly vastly greater than the evidence required to deny someone of their liberty in a court of law and lock them in jail for 20 years, or even execute them, or worse still go to war – even in parts of the so-called democratic, free world.

Karma is logical and all encompassing.

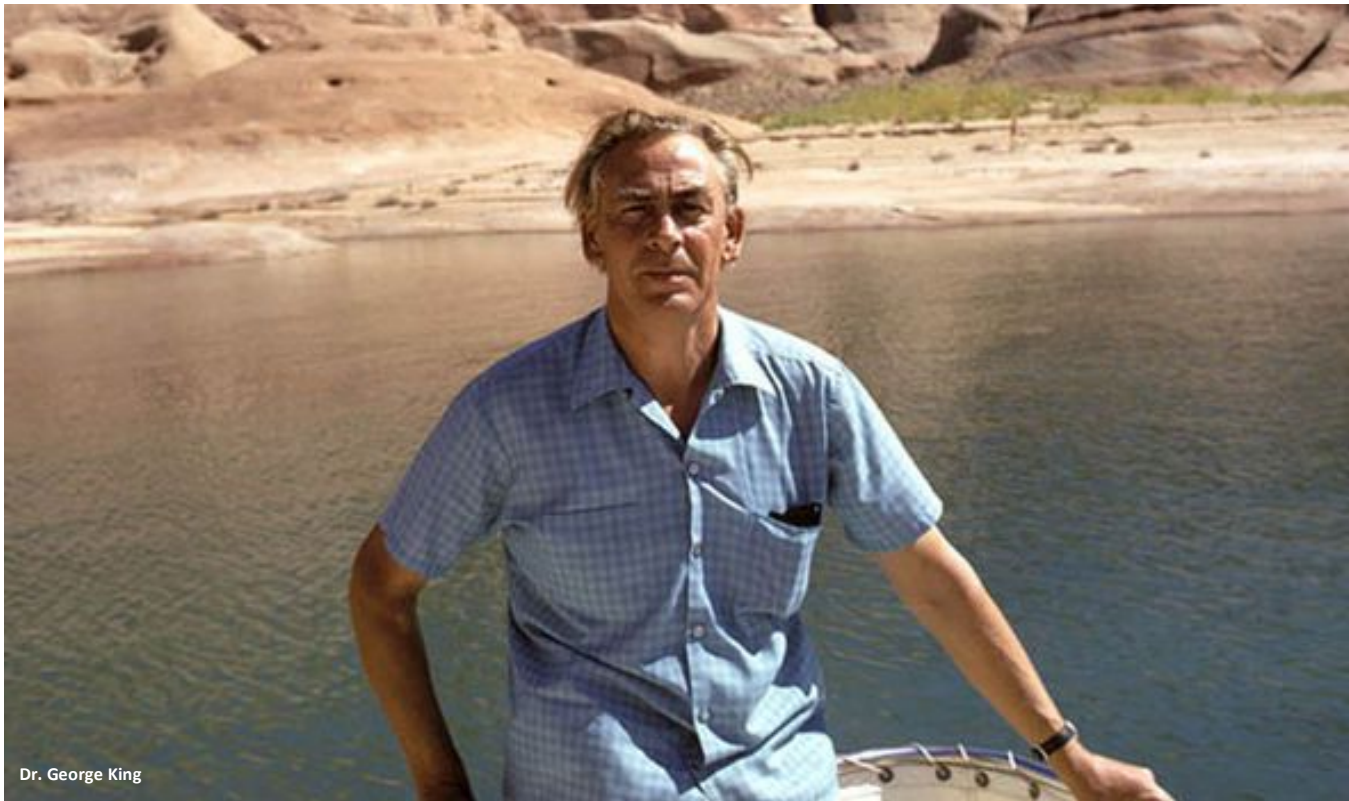

We pass from life to life in order to gain experience through karma. Karma is all about learning – not about punishing. It is not a supernatural force superimposed on a logical universe – karma is the very essence of logic, and all other natural laws, whether applying to the physical world or not, are either an aspect of karma, or, at the very least, work in complete harmony with karma. In fact karma is often described as the principle that action and reaction are opposite and equal, which is of course Newton's third law of motion. That illustrates just how integral it is – not just to “moral issues” – but even to the movement of physical objects.

Beyond the cycle of rebirth.

What is the goal of all this experience, from one life to the next? The answer is simple: eventually we will reach a point where we no longer need to reincarnate; where we have learnt all the lessons that we, as points of consciousness, can learn through reincarnation upon Earth. At that point we have a choice – whether to begin a new, higher life cycle on another planet, or whether to stay on Earth, working behind the scenes, as it were, to help mankind to advance. But regardless of what choice is made, the intelligence in question no longer suffers the limitation of a mortal body like the rest of us do. In other words, they do not get old and die and then get reborn as babies. They may change their bodies from time to time (maybe every few hundred or even few thousand years), but they would do so in full consciousness, reusing the energy of their former physical structure, for their new physical structure. And yes – they are physical beings just as we are physical beings – but, unlike us, they are capable of moving freely from one frequency of vibration to another, i.e. of vibrating their physical structure on to a different material plane.

The Ascended Masters – where are they and what do they do?
Those who choose to stay on Earth are known as “The Ascended Masters”. They work together in what is termed “The Spiritual Hierarchy of Earth”, sometimes called “The Great White Brotherhood” – which is not a very good name for it in some ways since it could be seen to imply that they are all white and all male, which is certainly not the case. Sexism and racism are the foul inventions of mankind – totally alien to the Divine justice of karmic evolution. All Ascended Masters have amazing powers. For example, he or she could cut a mountain in two using only the power of thought, or sit in a blast furnace without being burned. They also have phenomenal psychic abilities, such as advanced clairvoyance and telepathy. They live primarily in or under various mountains around the world – the location of their retreats including: Sri Lanka; Luxor in Egypt; Mount Kilimanjaro in Tanzania; Ben Macdui in Scotland; the Andes; Grand Teton, Mount Shasta and Castle Peak in the USA; and the Himalayas. Each specializes in different activities, for example in the Scottish retreat they examine and keep records of all spiritual organisations throughout the world.

There are also various other more minor retreats. Much of their work centres on the invocation, storage and radiation of spiritual energy, which was discussed in the article entitled ‘Operation Prayer Power – an amazing true story of extraterrestrials, futuristic technology and religion’ in the June 2016 issue (No. 86), and indeed the Ascended Masters are engaged in work very similar to Operation Prayer Power – storing energy in specially-designed “batteries” for later release – though no doubt their version of this mission would be vastly more advanced than anything that we would be capable of – as yet. Spiritual energy – which is a huge topic in itself – is a real power which brings about healing, ecological balance, and perhaps most important of all – it raises consciousness; in other words, it helps people access the inspiration within themselves to bring about positive change.

Mediumship – true, false and somewhere in between?

The Ascended Masters also give spiritual teachings – which is done in various different ways, one of them being through mediumship. Dr. George King is an outstanding example of a medium who has genuinely channeled an Ascended Master, and in this he is extremely rare, though certainly not unique. There are countless claims of such a feat, but in many cases a careful examination of the so-called spiritual teaching given is enough to prove to the discerning mind that the claim is false. In such cases it may be that the medium is being deluded by their own imagination; or is deliberately lying; or is being deceived by an entity falsely claiming to be a great Master; or is simply mistaken about the identity of a well-meaning spirit guide or other contact.

The Ascended Masters are great enlightened beings; they do not concern themselves with the trivia of the daily life of an ordinary individual. You cannot learn to channel an Ascended Master in a weekend seminar and then use your supposed contact to help you find a new job, a new romance, or a better place to do your shopping. Likewise, even when the message is more general, all too often it is little more than vague sentimentality – proving that it cannot be authentic. These intelligences do not indulge in such nonsense; they are highly practical, logical, action-orientated adepts – if they were not, then they would not have been able to go through the initiation of Ascension giving them their current advanced evolutionary status.

We need them – they don’t need us.

While the work they do is of tremendous benefit to mankind, their most important function is simply remaining on Earth as the advanced intelligences that they are. Their very presence here has a huge and very positive effect on the karma of the world as a whole, which staves off the karmic cataclysm that would otherwise inevitably ensue. In fact, Dr. King stated that he believed humankind would only last on Earth about three and a half days if they were to leave us alone to fend for ourselves.

Why don’t they walk openly among us?

Given their importance, you might wonder why they do not walk openly among us and spread their wisdom freely to all. The answer is that there is nothing they would like more – but we are not yet advanced enough to handle such a thing correctly. Imagine how people would react to the appearance of a great, wise being of tremendous power. Some would welcome it, certainly; but many would ignore it, at least after the initial curiosity wore off; and appalling though it is to even think it – a considerable number would actively oppose such a being. An Ascended Master would have no reservation in quashing a lot of nonsensical religious dogmas – no doubt resulting in his or her being called the “Anti-Christ” or similar such terms. And they would have no reservation either in denouncing the abominable unfair distribution of wealth on Earth – where some have hundreds of millions of dollars and others starve due to extreme poverty. Likewise, they would have little time for the barbarous taste for war demonstrated by a number of countries around the world, including certain countries which supposedly pride themselves on the ideals of freedom and democracy. It is when – and only when – mankind as a whole has grown up enough to welcome the presence of an Ascended Master – that such a being will be allowed, by karmic law, to walk openly among us. We have to sort our own problems out – as a planetary race – before we will deserve this kind of direct, face-to-face spiritual assistance. We have to prove that we would use such an opportunity wisely before it can happen.

Who are they?

Here are some examples of intelligences in the Spiritual Hierarchy of Earth:

The Lord Maitreya – is a member of the Spiritual Hierarchy’s Inner Council. He features prominently in certain ancient writings under the name Maitreya Rishi, and is the guru of Count Saint Germain.

Count Saint Germain– is perhaps the most famous, at least in the Western world, because, as far as we know at least, he has had more contact than any other Ascended Master with ordinary mortals like you and me, including certain European royalty (who were certainly very ordinary from a spiritual point of view). He did this for around 700 years. Some believe he was Christian Rosenkreuz, the legendary founder of the Rosicrucian order; and there are numerous other identities which have been put forward for him.

Swami Vivekananda – who lived from 1863 to 1902, is now an Ascended Master. One of the foremost disciples of Sri Ramakrishna, he brought eastern wisdom to the West when he represented Hinduism at The World’s Parliament of Religions in Chicago in 1893, also spreading Vedanta philosophy in Britain and other parts of Europe. He died in his homeland – India – aged 39, thereby fulfilling his own prophecy that he would pass on before the age of 40.

Madame Blavatsky– who lived from 1831 to 1891, is also in the Spiritual Hierarchy, though it has not been revealed whether or not she has been through the initiation of Ascension (Note: not every member of the Spiritual Hierarchy of Earth is an Ascended Master – but all are very advanced in spiritual matters). Some refer to her as the “Mother of the New Age”, in recognition of her outstanding contribution to revealing aspects of Eastern wisdom and occultism at a time when virtually nothing was known about either in the Western world. She claimed contact with a number of intelligences referred to in Theosophy as “Mahatmas”. It would seem very likely that these Mahatmas were either in the Spiritual Hierarchy, or, at the very least, worked with it. Two well-known examples of these advanced intelligences are the Masters Moria and Kuthumi (also written Koot Hoomi).

Saint Goo-Ling – who has lived in the same physical body for some 2000 years, holds the prominent position of “Keeper of the Great Seal”. He communicated through the trance mediumship of Dr. George King a number of times, and had the honour of introducing certain Transmissions from even more advanced intelligences than himself, originating from other planets.

The Lord Babaji – who, incredible though it sounds, has lived in the same physical body for some 3000 million years, is a Cosmic Master from another planet rather than an Ascended Master from Earth.

He comes from a higher material plane of the planet Saturn – the most advanced planet in the Solar System – and is the political and spiritual head of the Hierarchy.

This gives him a position of unique importance on Earth – and he is a Master to whom we owe a tremendous debt of gratitude for being instrumental in staving off world catastrophe on countless occasions.
